REGULATORY INFORMATION - USA MARKET

RF EXPOSURE INFORMATION (SAR)

This device meets the government's requirements for exposure to radio waves.

This device is designed and manufactured not to exceed the emission limits for exposure to radio frequency (RF) energy set by the Federal Communications Commission of the U.S. Government.

The exposure standard for wireless device employs a unit of measurement known as the Specific Absorption Rate, or SAR. The SAR limit set by the FCC is 1.6W/kg. *Tests for SAR are conducted using standard operating positions accepted by the FCC with the device transmitting at its highest certified power level in all tested frequency bands. Although the SAR is determined at the highest certified power level, the actual SAR level of the device while operating can be well below the maximum value. This is because the device is designed to operate at multiple power levels so as to use only the poser required to reach the network. In general, the closer you are to a wireless base station antenna, the lower the power output.

The highest SAR value for the model device XP3800 (Type number PG2233) as reported to the FCC:

- When tested for use at the ear is 1.15 W/kg, and
- When worn on the body, as described in this user guide, is 1.42 W/kg (Body-worn measurements differ among device models, depending upon available accessories and FCC requirements.).

While there may be differences between the SAR levels of various devices and at various positions, they all meet the government requirement.

The FCC has granted an Equipment Authorization for this model device with all reported SAR levels evaluated as in compliance with the FCC RF exposure guidelines. SAR information on this model device is on file with the FCC and can be found under the Display Grant section of www.fcc.gov/oet/ea/fccid after searching on FCC ID: WYPPG2212.

For body worn operation, this device has been tested and meets the FCC RF exposure guidelines for use with an accessory that contains no metal and be positioned a minimum of 1cm from the body. Use of other accessories may not ensure compliance with FCC RF exposure guidelines. If you do not use a body-worn accessory and are not holding the device at the ear, position the handset a minimum of 0 cm from your body when the device is switched on.

- The maximum antenna gain permitted for devices in the bands 5250-5350 MHz and 5470-5725 MHz shall comply with the e.i.r.p. limit; and
- The maximum antenna gain permitted for devices in the band 5725-5825 MHz shall comply with the e.i.r.p. limits specified for point-to-point and non point-to-point operation as appropriate.
- The worst-case tilt angle(s) necessary to remain compliant with the e.i.r.p. elevation mask requirement set forth in Section 6.2.2(3) shall be clearly indicated.
- Users should also be advised that high-power radars are allocated as primary users (i.e. priority users) of the bands 5250-5350 MHz and 5650-5850 MHz and that these radars could cause interference and/or damage to LE-LAN devices.

HAC RATING

The FCC has created a rating system for cellular phones regarding their HAC-related performance. This rating helps consumers with hearing disabilities to find phones that work well with their hearing aid devices. The HAC rating and measurement procedure are described in the American National Standards Institute (ANSI C63.19-2011) contains two rating standards: an "M" rating from 1 to 4 for hearing aids operating in microphone mode, and a "T" rating from 1 to 4 for hearing aids operating in telecoil mode. M-Rating stands for Microphone rating and indicates the amount of reduction of RF interference between the telephone and the hearing aid in acoustic coupling mode (also called microphone mode). Phones rated M3 or M4 meet FCC requirements and generate less interference to hearing devices set in microphone mode. T-Rating stands for telecoil rating and represents inductive coupling with hearing aids that are operating in telecoil mode. A telecoil is a small piece of tightly wrapped wire, built into some hearing aids. While the microphone of a hearing aid picks up all sounds, the telecoil only picks up an electromagnetic signal from the telephone. Thus, users of telecoil-equipped hearing aids are able to communicate over the telephone without the amplification of unwanted background noise. Phones rated T3 or T4 meet FCC requirements and generate less interference to hearing devices set in telecoil mode.

A combination of M-rating and T-rating defines the final HAC rating and is a deciding factor in selecting cellular phones for people with hearing problems. A HAC compliant phone could be rated:

- M3/T3
- M3/T4
- M4/T3
- M4/T4

its resistance to interference. The best way to evaluate the suitability of the phone is to try it with the intended hearing aid device.

The model XP3800 have been tested for hearing aid device compatibility and complies with the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) requirements. These devices are rated M3/T4.

NON-INCENDIVE DEVICE USER CAUTIONS

| | IT IS NOT ALLOWED TO CONNECT ANY EXTERNAL DEVICES TO ALL PORTS/ INTERFACE (USB) IN A HAZARDOUS AREA. |

| | ONLY THE POWER SUPPLIES WITH OUTPUTS MEET THE SELV REQUIREMENTS CAN BE USED FOR CHARGING. THE MAXIMUM ALLOWABLE INPUT VOLTAGE FOR THE PHONE IS 5V. |

| | DO NOT USE THE NON-LPS ADAPTER TO CHARGE THE DEVICE. IT MAY CAUSE A FIRE. |

| | THE BATTERY ONLY CAN BE CHARGED or CHANGED IN NON-HAZARDOUS LOCATION. |

| | DO NOT CONNECT OR DISCONNECT THROUGH USB PORT WHEN ENERGIZED, UNLESS THE LOCATION IS KNOWN TO BE NON-HAZARDOUS. |

| | THE TORQUE FORCE is 1.9 Kgf.cm. |

HAZARDOUS LOCATION USAGE WARNING

Determine by inspection that the following information is made available to the user by one or more of;

1. Printed on the label for the battery
2. Printed on the label for the host device
3. Printed in the owner's manual
4. Posted in a help file or Internet website.

Do not disassemble or open crush, bend or deform, puncture or shred.

Do not modify or re manufacture, attempt to insert foreign objects into the battery, immerse or expose to water or other liquids, expose to fire, explosion or other hazard.

Only use the battery for the system for which it is specified.

Do not short circuit a battery or allow metallic conductive objects to contact battery terminals.

Replace the battery only with another battery that has been qualified with the system per this standard, IEEE-Std-1725. Use of an unqualified battery may present a risk of fire, explosion, leakage or other hazard. Only authorized service providers shall replace battery. (If the battery is non-user replaceable).

Do not short circuit a battery or allow metallic conductive objects to contact battery terminals.

Promptly dispose of used batteries in accordance with local regulations.

Battery usage by children should be supervised.

Avoid dropping the phone or battery. If the phone or battery is dropped, especially on a hard surface, and the user suspects damage, take it to a service center for inspection.

Improper battery use may result in a fire, explosion or other hazard.
